

Changing Projection Settings in Windows 10

This documentation shows you a quick and simple way to change your projection settings. This can only be utilized if your device supports multiple display outputs.

- 1) Once you have powered on the computer and logged in (and using multiple displays), press and hold the windows key and P (will pop up figured displayed to the right)
- 2) Press the P key until the white box is surrounding the setting you want to use.
 - * “PC screen only” will use your main display (with the icons)
 - * “Duplicate” causes both screens to display the same content using the same aspect ratio and resolution
 - * “Extend” makes it so that your main display and secondary display different things
 - * “Second screen only” makes it so that the non-primary screen becomes the only active display.
