

When sending out a secure email, have the user type in zixencrypt in the subject line after the actual subject.